

SACI's New Events for 2026

As reported in April, at our 105th annual business meeting, we tried once again to set up our annual golf outing at Galloping Hill in Kenilworth. As SACI's contingent of dedicated golfers' declines, we were forced to contact several other courses to see if their packages would work for us. Unfortunately, we were unable to find a reasonably priced package for the number of golfers we could guarantee, so for the time being we decided to suspend our efforts for 2026.

The good news is that members Mike Lankin of Takasago USA and Arpan Parikh of Ampak Company have volunteered to investigate logistics and financials further to see if SACI can resurrect our golf program during 2027. There will be some program changes that will help our messaging reach more of the industry so stay tuned as we pursue this effort.

So; this year we tried something different.

Instead; we added two additional casual social luncheons which were very well attended and everyone who joined us had a great time. We celebrated the summer solstice in June at the Miller's Ale House in Parsippany, NJ.

Miller's Ale House has an enjoyable atmosphere that features a spacious open-air patio with a covered bar and dining area that could be used if the weather is not so good. It was quite windy that day, so we opted to stay inside. It was private - right next to the bar. We were the only people in that room.

SACI's Fall Luncheon

Then it was back to business after summer vacations were over in September. The Fall Luncheon was a little different. We went to Cucina Calandra Ristorante in Fairfield, NJ. The food was an excellent Italian cuisine, again well attended by members in a bright open room with a fireplace. Not only was the food wonderful, but right afterward most of us stopped at their bakery just a few hundred yards from the restaurant. You've never seen so many breads, cakes, pies, and pastries in one spot.
