

SACI's "New" Gathering Place - Meet me in the Alley at Charley's Aunt

This year, the SACI organization launched a new opportunity to gather to usher in the Summer Solstice. On June 12th, we gathered on the patio at Charley's Aunt Bar & Restaurant in Chatham to celebrate the end of spring and the beginning of summer. It was an innovative idea and everyone who attended had a great time. Many of our social events are semi-formal. This was a break from that tradition; and you know what - it was very relaxing. The sun got a bit warm for a while as it dropped below the horizon, but generally the temperature was perfect. We will for sure be doing it again. Stay tuned and enjoy our set of photos.

Announcements: What's New at SACI

Facebook is Out – Linked In is IN

As of July 12, 2019; SACI formally discontinued our site on Facebook. It had become a managerial nightmare, and statistically it was not reaching the business community we target to attract new members. At this time, we are in the process of setting up a LinkedIn page for SACI which we hope will increase our profile among others who share our passion for our respective industries and for the well-being of the profession of selling. Very shortly, you will be seeing a small SACI color logo at the bottom of every e-mail we send out. Click on it and it will bring you directly to our linked in page. Let's get interactive.

SACI Will be Getting a New Phone Number

Starting with the Fall revision of our web page, SACI will be getting a new phone number. Please begin making the change at your convenience. Our new number will be (973) 549-8575. A new outlook contact and business card will be sent around shortly to all members and sponsors.

Introducing our newest SACI Member

One of our members, Christine Varelas, has just joined Chemlumina of Edison. She had discussed SACI with her supervisor, William Fylak, and he has graciously accepted her invitation to join us. Please join me in welcoming Bill and Chemlumina to the SACI family. We hope he will be able to join us at the Fall Networking Luncheon so we all become acquainted.
